In Memory Of

Marc Hanna Wright Jr.

Marc Wright was an easy-going, fun loving guy who always had a smile on his face. This smile was infectious. Voted classclown by his classmates. Marc always had a way of getting people to laugh. He was also known for his practical jokes with friends and teachers falling prey to his antics. Marc was someone who participated in various activities such as Speech and Drama, Prom Committee and baseball. He was a well-rounded student and person. Marc is sadly missed by friends and family.

We're Setting The Pace

All in life seems a race. Whether the race is with peers or with ourselves, to achieve large dreams or small ones, we all seem to be competing in one way or another.

We strive to build and improve ourselves with each passing year. We race together to strengthen us as a whole, and we race apart to achieve personal goals and satisfy individual ideas and ambitions.

The driving force is the growth and feelings of accomplishment we sense as we attain our goals and master obstacles in our paths.

Here, at Washington High School, we are preparing ourselves for the biggest race of all - the human race. We combine our talents and, yet, at the same time, challenge each other to achieve. We are creating standards for those to follow. They must improve on us and beat our time, for we are Setting the Pace.

Student Life

Homecoming '87

Homecoming began with the annual pep rally held in the auditorium. This year's rally had some surprising events. The cheerleaders began with an upbeat dance to Run DMC's "Tricky." The next two events at the rally involved the football players. The players were misled to think that they could kiss a cheerleader; but, instead they almost kissed a teammate. Jeff Bennett and James Redding were declared "the most kissable football players of the season." Three football players then undressed and then placed their uniforms on a cheerleader. A skit entitled "Snow White and the Nine Dwarfs" was performed by the cheerleaders. At the end of the pep rally the homecoming king and queen and their court were named. Donna McIntyre won the coveted homecoming crown and Jeff Bennett was her king. Tiffoni Cottman and Angella Handy were members of the senior court. Juniors were Tonya Brady and Jimmy Leatherbury. The sophomore class was represented by Terri Doane. Freshman court members were James Clark and Brenda Slade.

The pep rally ended with some spirit raisers and the crowd was ready for the big game on Friday night. Thursday night, the bonfire was held. The cheerleaders and football players performed cheers together for the crowd. The band played a couple of spirit raising songs while showing off their marching talent. A giant "D" was burned as anticipation of the big game built up.

Friday, during school, the 10th year aniversary cake made by vo-tech students was unveiled. Everyone enjoyed a slice at lunch.

Friday night the football team defeated the Delmar Wildcats by a score of 28-12. This was a key victory for the Jaguars. Congratulations guys!

The homecoming dance was held immediately after the game. Although attendance was not good, those who participated had an enjoyable night. Brian Boone of UMES was the DJ providing the music for the dance.

Overall, Homecoming '87, our 10th year aniversary at our new school was a success thanks goes to everyone who contributed to the festivities.

Weekends, Weekends!

What does a weekend in Princess Anne consist of? Riding around town and hanging out at McDonalds and Hardee's are what alot of Washington High School students like to do. During the fall and winter months there is usually a football or basketball game to go to. But Saturday night is a good night for parties and all-around fun. The mall and the movies are good choices, or we can always stay home and watch TV. Sunday is also the day to do the homework, we never felt like doing Friday or Saturday. And of course there are always those hard-working dedicated students who have weekend jobs and are always busy. Most teenagers enjoy the freedoms that a weekend brings. Some people even look forward to weekends as a time to be themselves. Basically weekends are a time for freedom, being with friends and going out.

Christmas W.H.S. Style

An Annual Tradition

Christmas at Washington High revolves around traditions. Halls and classrooms are festively decorated as everyone joins in with the Christmas mood. Classwork gives way to Christmas parties, and celebrations and detention hall decreases as students get into the spirit of Christmas. The last day of school before the holiday is always celebrated by the production of the annual Christmas Assembly presented by the Student Council.

This year's assembly began with performances by the Show Choir and Stage I Band. The students were also treated to a "Bugs Bunny Show" while they patiently waited for Santa to arrive.

When Ole' Saint Nick finally rolled in, he called on Joe Pietroski and Jamie Clark to function as his elves in giving out gifts to "good little girls and boys".

The day ended with a 12:30 bell and the distribution of the bags of goodies from the school cafeteria. Everyone headed home in a spirited mood to enjoy Christmas Break.

School Bus Blues

Each day many students at Washington High go through rain, hail, sleet, snow and various other hazards to get to the bus stop. The bus is a major part of many students' lives.

The bus ride to Washington High gives a student time to associate with friends, eat breakfast, finish homework or just catch a few extra ZZZ's.

Riding the bus can sometimes become a bummer, seeing friends zoom by in their cars and stop at Hardee's for breakfast makes the bus seem somewhat confining. The monotomy of the same route everyday with the same grumpy, early morning faces, and the bumps and shakes of the ride are often extremely irritating. Students call this the "school bus blues."

Oh, I hate fire drills! Valerie Taylor closes her eyes as she prepares to jump from the rear exit.

The World Of Wheels

Summer jobs and after school employment allow many students to buy their own cars. Some luckier students receive automobiles as presents, while others inherit the family jalopy. This all adds to the character of the student parking lot, ranging from IROC Z's, fieros and pick-ups to mom's old station wagon.

Valentine's Dance

A Senior First

This year the Senior Class sponsored the School's first semi-formal Valentine's Day dance. The cafeteria was decorated in festive red balloons and warm paper hearts in contrast to the snow and sleet that fell outside.

A variety of music was provided by two radio stations, O.C. 104 and WJDY. Every song had someone on the dance floor.

Although the weather kept some people away, those who braved the elements had a great Valentine's Day!

School Fauna

Washington High School consists of many diverse groups of people. With this wide array of students, life at WHS can be very interesting. Take a walk down the halls and you will see some of these groups: Glamorus cosmeticus, Punkus punkus, Whizicus kidicus and Athleticus jockus.

Glamorous cosmeticus: This rapidly maturing species is frequently seen in the company of A. jockus, and are concerned mainly with courtship rituals. The locker of G. cosmeticus is distinquished by a large mirror on the door and by the evolution of books, pens, and pencils into combs, brushes, and other beuty aids.

Punkus punkus: One of the strangest of the school's inhabitants. Plummage is predominantly dark, and frequently ruffled. Often travels in small groups. Eyes frequently glazed during classes in mathmatics and science. Generally harmless, despite fearsome appearance.

Wizicus kidicus: Rarely seen outside science class. Skin coloration is pale since exposure is restricted to the light of computer monitors. Frequently converses in a complex dialect, known only to other W. kidicus and some physics teachers.

Athleticus jockus: The largest and strongest of the student population, A. jockus are often found in the company of coaches. May or may not be interested in academic subjects, but usually observed to be distracted in class on game days.

Friends

Webster's Dictionary defines a friend as being a person who knows and likes another; a person who favors and supports.

Washington High is made up of many groups of friends. Friends who share, laugh, play, work, argue and support each other through thick and thin.

What Is A Friend?

Margie Pinto - someone who makes you smile

Heather Webster - someone who laughs with you not at you

Vicky Webster - someone who is there when you need them

Jill Fisher - someone to have fun with

Troy Selby - someone to hang out with

Beth Holmes - someone to put up with your ever-changing ways

Mrs. Keplinger - someone to share in your happiness and encourage you when you're down

Powder Puff Basketball?

Females In Jerseys, Males In Skirts . . .

Among the many new activities of the WHS cheerleaders, an annual Powder Puff Basketball game was initiated this year.

This game saw J.V. and Varsity men basketball players in skirts cheering the crowd, while the J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders battled it out on the court.

The cheerleader teams played an interesting game, however the male cheerleaders stole the show. These guys were hilariously funny as they performed typically female cheers, pyramids and all!

The guys continuously harrassed the referees- Mr. Stewart and Mr. Birckett, and they constantly voices their disapproval of calls.

The audience really enjoyed this very atypical reversal of rolls.

Lip Sync

Another Success

The Second Annual Lip Sync contest was again sponsored by the Prom Committee, and again, it was a huge success.

The MC this year was Terry Tucker who did an outstanding job. There was a variety of music this year, ranging from Styx to L.L. Cool J. A trumpet solo was also synced by David Boothe.

This year's winner was Lamont Tazewell and friends with their portrayal of Roger and "I Wanna Be Your Man". Sam Shavers captured second place as he performed as L.L. Cool with "Go Cut Creator Go". For the second year in a row, third place went to Joe Ward, who has a way with those slow songs. Joe depicted Glenn Jones with "We've Only Just Begun." All of the performances were excellent and the judges had a difficult time.

A Night To End All Nights

The Prom of 1988 was a night full of excitement. Since October, the Junior Class Prom Committee had been struggling to plan the best prom for the Class of '88. They worked long, hard hours draping streamers and hanging balloons. The work paid off as the gym was observed by promgoers as a red, black, and silver fantasyland.

Couples danced the night away by music provided by DJ Paul Butler, and experienced the beautiful atmosphere of twinkling lights, balloons and streamers.

At 9:30 some ninety couples paraded through an auditorium full of proud parents and spectators, displaying the array of beautiful gowns and tuxedos.

Near the end of the evening came the announcement of the Prom King, Queen, and Court. James Redding and Karen Benton represented the Senior Class as King and Queen and Mike Figgs and Margie Pinto portrayed Prince and Princess.

To conclude Prom Night '88 those attended left to party at a friends house, go to breakfast or walk on the beach in Ocean City. It was truly a Night to End All Nights.

The Students' Voice

Student Council

The 1987-88 student council of Washington High was very successful with its activities. The group has 34 members, consisting of 7 seniors, 7 juniors, 7 sophomores, 7 Freshmen and 6 eighth graders. The president for the Student Council this year was Traci Bozman, who participated in most of the activities and headed the group with leadership.

The Student Council sponsored one of the most successful exchanges programs that W.H.S. has ever had, with Calhoun, Georgia. The council also began a new fund raising program by placing a booth in the Salisbury Festival at the end of April. Mr. Frank Herzins, advisor, hopes that these festivals will continue over the coming years.

They also sponsored the Annual Homecoming in October as well as assemblies and movies throughout the year. Some of the movies include "Harry and the Hendersons" and "Hoosiers". Assemblies included a reptile show, pantomime presentation, and a Christmas celebration. The annual carnival for W.H.S. was also hosted at the end of the year.

Again, the council was involved in the News Election Service in reporting the results of our National Primary Election in March and in May. Ushers for graduation were also provided. They were also instrumental in getting a student voice on the Board of Education by electing a student to serve on that board. The Student Council does a lot more than credit is given. Congratulations on a successful year.

WHS Experiences Southern Hospitality

Up North...

The Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Frank Herzins, participated in a domestic student exchange with Calhoun High School in Calhoun, Georgia. The students from Georgia arrived on November 15, 1987 as many anxious WHS students and parents awaited. Among those students participating in the exchange were: Seniors: Amy Ford, Jodi Pizzaia, Julia White, Michelle Wells, Greg Hartman, and Krista Kurtz. Juniors: Jill Fisher, Heather Webster, Billy Williams, Oliver Collier, Kit Simpson, John French, Sandi Yoder, Ellen Wigglesworth. Sophomores: Anne Widdowson, Heather Shores, Christa Campbell. Freshman: Lani Smith, Jennifer Atkinson,, Cathy Brummitt, Laura Trumbauer. 8th graders: Amy Russell and Kelly Collins.

During the week, the students traveled to Annapolis, Baltimore and Washington, D.C. They went to all the tourist spots including the White House, the Lincoln Memorial and the Naval Academy. The Inner Habor was one of the Georgian students favorites.

The weekend was free time for the students. Many went to Ocean City or other local points of interest. The week went by quickly as the students established their new friendships. Sunday arrived too soon, and at 9:00 am on Sunday November 22, 1987 the Georgia students departed from Washington High School. The new friends that were made that week will not be forgotten.

The students knew that in a few months, they would be travelling to Georgia to renew old friendships and hopefully make new ones.

. . . Up North

On Sunday March 5, eighteen students and three faculty members left from Washington High School at 5:00 p.m. After a long night on an uncomfortable bus, the students arrived at what they thought was Calhoun High School. Unfortunately, it was the wrong school. Soon, they found the right school and Georgian friends and parents were waiting for the W.H.S. students.

During the week, students traveled to Atlanta and saw the Carter Presidential Library and the gravesite of Martin Luther King Jr. They also went to New Echota, which is an Indian civilization. The major industries in Calhoun, Welco Carpet and Outboard Marine Corporation were visited. On Friday, the students went to Chatanooga, Tennesse, and ate in the Chatanooga Choo Choo.

The week soon came to an end as the students made a teary departure on March 14, 1888.

Lasting friendships and wonderful memories will be with the students for many years to come.

Jaguar Journalists

Learning the arts of good journalistic writing and newspaper production is not as easy as most students think! Much time is involved developing style, layouts and articles. Photographic sessions must be scheduled and proofreading must be done. All of these things must be accomplished within a certain time frame in order to meet deadlines.

Mrs. Ford runs a tough class, and students are required to put in alot of time and work. The result is, however, worth the effort, as the Washington Recorder is an accurate, entertaining and informative newspaper.

The Hatchet

Deadlines, Deadlines, Deadlines . . .

Having somewhat achieved competency in layout and narration, the goal for the 1988 yearbook staff was to meet all deadlines. Production seemed to roll right along with only a few snags here and there. Receiving "Atta Boys" in the mail from the production company for meeting the deadline dates kept the staff motivated. However, other problems began to crop up. Financially, the 1988 book was sufferring from "lack of funds." An occasional "lack of creativity" plagued the staff on several occasions, especially during the "February Doldrums." As spring approached, the staff had to fight "the fever." It was often hard to keep on track when the weather outside was so nice. As graduation neared, "annual senioritis" set in and it was a mad rush to complete the final deadline before the seniors left.

Despite the minor problems and set backs the Hatchet staff met their deadlines and for the first time in years the yearbook was completed on time!

Vo-Tech

A Varied Alternative

The J. Millard Tawes Vocational Technical Center offers two year vocational trade and industry programs to students at both Crisfield and Washington high schools. Eighth graders from both schools also take six-week survey classes.

Courses at the center are individualized involving both classroom and "hands on" activities.

Classes include such areas as Agriculture, Automotive mechanics, Carpentry, Commercial Fisheries, Printing, Food Services, Electrical Instruction, Health Occupations, Plumbing, Welding and Drafting.

Again, as in previous years, the students at J. Millard Tawes planned and constructed a house to be sold to benefit the center. All areas of the school participated.

National Honor Society

Leadership, Service, Character And Scholarship

The 1988 National Honor Society held its annual induction on April 7, 1988. Fourteen new members were inducted for the 1988 school term.

In order to qualify for Honor Society, students must have a 3.25 cumulative grade point average. To be selected, they must also possess the qualities of leadership character, and service.

Officiers of the National Honor Society are Greg Twigg, president, Margie Pinto, vice president, Lee Ruark, treasurer, and Anne Banning, secretary. The group is advised by Miss Somers.

Generates New Ideas

In their second year of existence at Washington High, SADD continued their campaign against alcohol and substance abuse.

With a drastic increase in membership the students successfully participated in the Annual National White-Out Day during which students dressed in black with white faces and acted as if they were victims of drunk driving accidents.

This year thirteen members of SADD branched off into another organization, SHOP-STUDENTS HELPING OTHER PEOPLE. Those students Keita Satchell, Beth Holmes, Jessie LeBron, Micheal Dennis, Dion Johnson, Tina Doane, Uyi Sibetta, Juanita Mills, Terry Tucker, Peaches Leatherbury, Pam Bailey, Michelle Walston, Thomasine Jones, and Stephanie Evans, traveled to New Windsor, Maryland to participate in a three-day conference with students from all over Maryland.

The conference was structured to train the students as peer counselors, on subjects such as alcohol and substance abuse, rape, and relating to others.

While at the conference the students were lectured by Commander Fogglesonger. Because of his informative way of speaking on substance abuse, the students invited him to speak to parents and students at Washington High.

Shop is already planning activities for next year which include performing skits for the elementary and middle schools in the county.

Mock Trial

Students Get First-Hand Experience

A powerful team of students comprised of students from Washington and Crisfield high schools, received first-hand experience with the Judicial System while participating on the Mock Trial Team this year.

Under the guidance of Social Studies teacher, Ms. Pat Somers, the Washington High students practiced following actual trial procedures and courtroom policies as they played the parts of plantiffs, defendants, witnesses and lawyers.

Mr. Logan Widdowson and Mr. Eddie Widdowson dedicated much of their time to advise and coach the team. The Somerset County Courthouse and it's staff extended warm cordialities to the students when sessions were held there.

Although not as successful as they had hoped, the students did an excellent job and benefitted from this very educational experience.

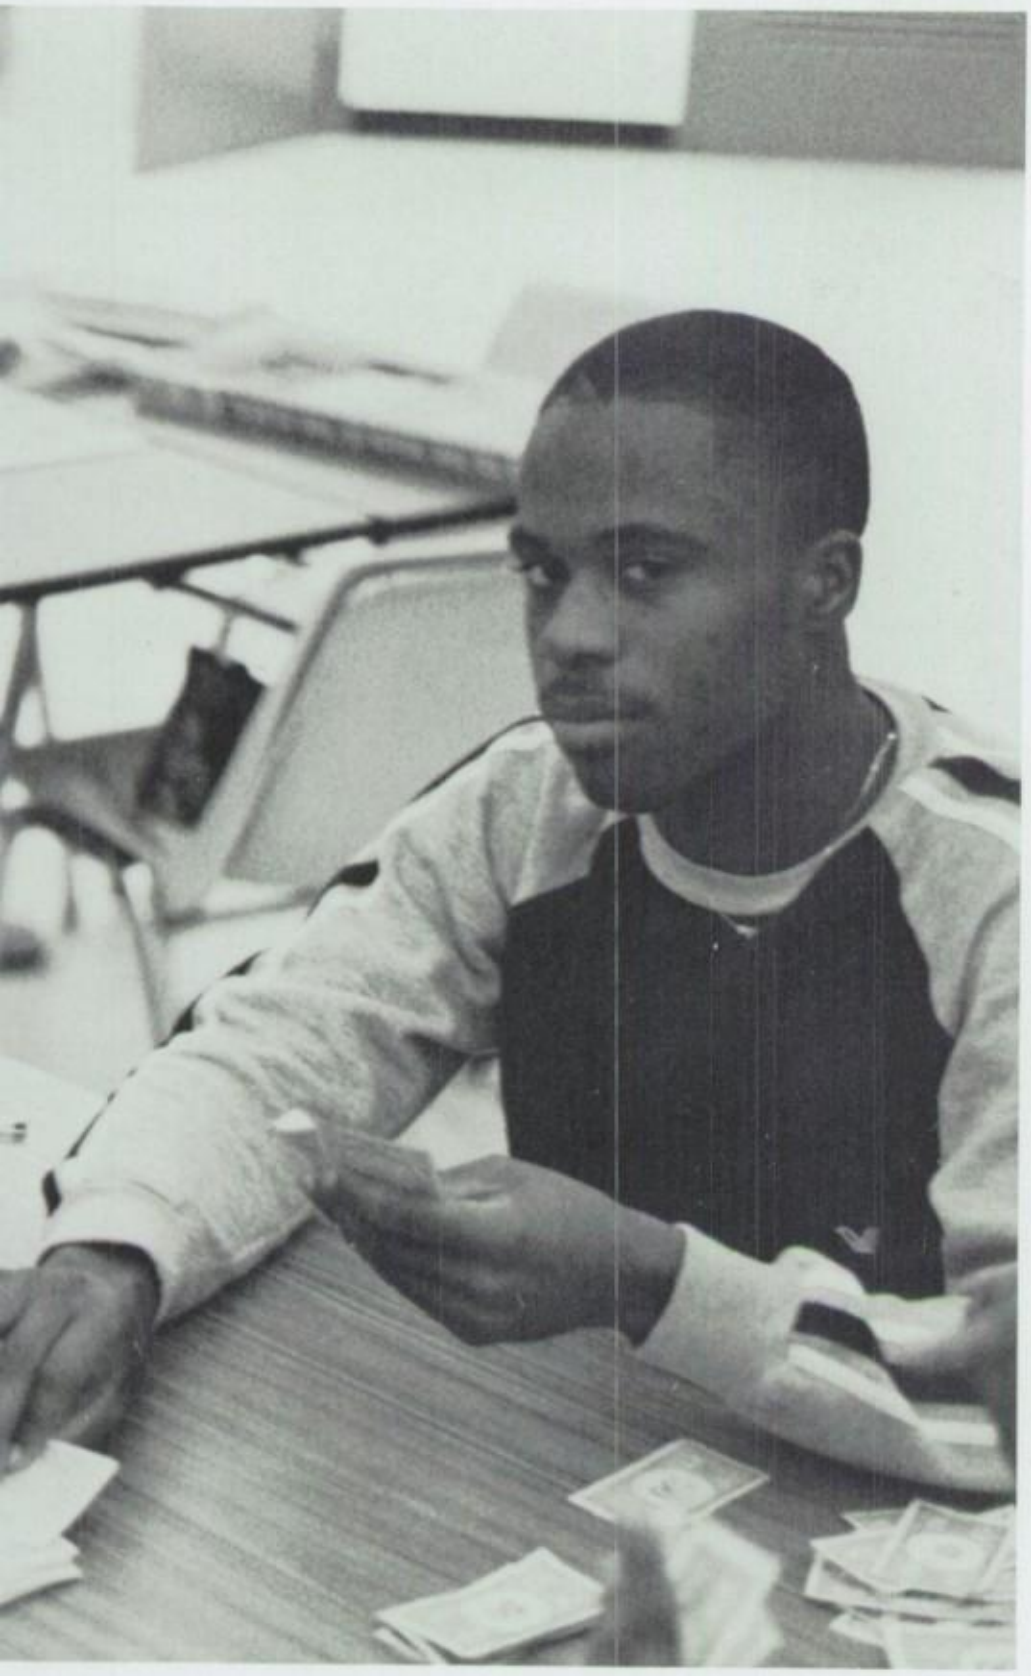
The Tennis Club, sponsored by Mr. Larry Sterling, met indoors during the colder days and learned the rules of the game. As the weather improved, the members hit the courts and put their knowledge to work!



Super Thursday

Thursday was no longer just an ordinary day of the week at WHS. A new policy was issued for the 1987-88' school year. In order to allow for all the school's assemblies and clubs, an eighth period was created on Thursday afternoons.

On days when movies or other assemblies were not sheduled, students designated the eighth period for their chosen clubs.

On Thursday, classes were shortened by five or ten minutes to make room for the eighth period. Time was also created by shortening the time students had between classes from the standard five minutes to three.

WHS students were largely in favor of the shorter class periods and the extra eighth period, but disliked the three minutes between classes.

Students and teachers alike just could not get used to the time schedule for Thursdays, but overall most people thought Super Thursday was a good idea.

Putting their hands to work, the Model Club built replicas of boats, cars and rockets during the eighth period on Thursday.

The Board Game Club, sponsored by Mrs. Donna Snow was one of the largest clubs at WHS. Students played many games from Monopoly to Checkers.

Clubs, Clubs, Clubs . . . Something For Everyone

An education involves more that just books. Experience is also a major contributor to a complete education. A person should become involved in various aspects of the entire educational system to develop into a well-rounded individual Varied experiences were made available to students this year through many of the School's clubs. The Ski Club sponsored two skiing trips for the athletically inclined, while the spanish club provided cultural expansion with trips to Mexico and New York. Knitting and Crocheting were introduced in the Craft Club, and model conntruction was the emphasis of the Model Club.

Tennis, Soccer and Varsity Clubs drew the athletes, while Sports Information provided current and historical sports trivia for the less active sports enthusist.

Other clubs, such as Media, Sky Watchers, Board Games, Band, Chorus, and Yearbook filled other areas of interest.

Whatever the interest, the club program at WHS provided a place for everyone.

Jaguar Bands

The 1987-88 Jaguar bands were very active during the school year. They worked hard to raise money for new uniforms by soliciting donations from the public and having various fund raisers. One of the fund raisers occured when Mr. Phillip Sterling, attempted to perform the Longest Drum Beat on the Eastern Shore. He played his drum for ten consecutive hours. This helped to raise important funds for the uniform drive.

The Marching Jags performed as home football games, and also competed in various area Christmas parades, such as Salisbury, Princess Anne, Snow Hill, Berlin, Cambridge and Pocomoke. The band won the Crisfield Hard Crab Derby and Cambridge parades. They placed third at the Pocomoke Christmas Parade.Their last parade of the marching season was the Ocean City White Marlin.

The Symphonic and Jazz Bands presented two concerts this year. A Musical Christmas Predent was presented in December and in April A Night Under the Stars was given. All who attended these concerts were treated to a delightful repertoire tf classical and contemporary music.

The band would like to thank Mr. Phillip Sterling for all his dedication and hard-work throughout the school year.

Choral Department

This year the Choral Department under it's new director, Miss Kelly Loving, had a successful year. The Christmas concert on December 17 was entitled "A Musical Christmas Present." A variety of traditional carols were combined with new renditions of old Christmas songs. The Show Choir jazzed up the concert by performing a Christmas Rap.

"A Concert Under the Stars" was the title of the annual Spring concert, which was held on April 12. The Show Choir did a medley of songs ranging from the Rock Era to present time. Concert Choir performed a variety of songs including a fugue and a spiritual.

On Thursday, April 12, the concert Choir travelled to Easton for an adjudication. The Choir rated very well.

Seniors

Every Senior Class is made up of individuals, but together, each class usually has a unifying general character. This is not the case with the Senior Class of 1988.

With only 101 students, the 1988 Senior Class was one of the smallest classes to have graduated in recent years. Whether size had anything to do with it or not, this year's Seniors seemed to be very diverse. Many Seniors participated in the workstudy program so were not present in school for much of the day. As a result, they were frequently unable to participate in extra-curricular activities and class unity suffered.

It seemed that group achievment was less important in 1988 and that individuality was the name of the game.

Senior Parade

Few things can match the exhileration of participating in the traditional Senior Parade. Seniors collect balloons, streamers, cans and any other "decorative stuff" they can get their hands on for weeks. They meet in a designated spot and "let their artistic madness" flow. Cars and trucks are transformed into senior celebration vehicles in preparation for the parade through town. After the last graduation practice. Seniors race to their cars and with horns honking and flags waving, they make their rounds through the parking lot and into town.

Senior Week

Graduation is a time for sad goodbyes and anticipation of the future. The last week this year was full of exams, graduation practices and last minute anxieties. After exams, the seniors cleaned out their lockers, handed in their books and waited for May 26th to arrive. Senior week was also full of last minute preparations - cap and gown pictures, picking up senior orders, and making plans for graduation parties.

Graduation

Here we stand
In Our glory
Another closed chapter in a never ending story
Sharing Our memories
we move through the years
the good and the bad times now missed with tears looking ahead, at what's to come the last time to ever see Us as one
We'll go our separate ways and begin our own lives remembering what we've learned for the best we will strive Alone once again
no longer a team
we the Class of '88
will now fulfill Our dreams.

One Lap To Go

Junior year is the year things get "revved" up. High geared priorities include: making plans for prom, prom, upcoming senior year, college or vocational choices, and the dreaded SATs.

With all jumbled and confusing thoughts, many considered this the motivated when they realize there is "just one more lap to go" before they reach the finish line.

Juniors Rule! Sophomores Shawn Sturgis and Matt Wallace find this out as they are surrounded by Juniors: Brent Taylor, Randy Webster, Cindy Bell and Billy Williams.

Sophomores

The sophomore class of 1987 and 1988 couldn't wait to reach this "golden" year. Even though they are still considered underclassmen by the Junior and Senior classes, this is the year Sophomores gain a lot of prestige.

Sophomore year includes such joys as turning "sweet sixteen," getting drivers liscenses and ordering class rings.

With all the excitement of this year, grades sometimes suffer a bit. But, this is also the time when Sophomores realize they're "not far behind" in the race to the finish line.

Beginning The Trial Run

Freshmen

We, the Freshman class of 1988 were anxious to begin our "trial run" at Washington High. Finally we are "true competitors" in the race. Extra-curricular activities are now open to us and we are finally receiving academic credit for our school work. It is a great feeling not to be the youngest anymore. We are finally on our way around the track.

8th Grade

Miserable, pitiful, scary, and disastrous are just some of the words the 1987-88 eighth grade class used to describe their first year at Washington High.

Anyone that has been an eighth grader knows that it isn't easy. Being the target of the traditional teasing from the upperclassman, makes students glad when that first year is over.

However, there are some advantages to being the youngest in the school. For one thing it seems as though eighth graders get away with more mischief than the upperclassmen.

Being at the starting line isn't all that bad if one anticipates the future.

Amy Russell and Jeremy East experience 8th grade.

Faculty

In order to maintain a steady performance in any race, a pit crew is needed to keep the race cars in top performance and to keep the drivers' organized. The falculty at Washington High School also has such duties. The faculty are not only our instructors, they are also our role models and leaders.

Often, with out compensation, teachers spend much of their time helping students. They spend many hours with afterschool tutoring and sponsoring clubs. They help us with personal, as well as educational problems.

Teachers have many qualities. Probably the most important one is their concern. Without their dedication, many of us would not do as well or enjoy our classes as much.

All these efforts do not go unnoticed. We would like to thank the faculty for all their dedication and hardwork.

Field Hockey

Makes Regional Playoffs

"All for one and one for all" was the motto of the 1987 Washington High Field Hockey Team. This seemed to fit the team perfectly, as teamwork was the key to it's success.

Effectively playing on the front line were Krista Kurtz, Kim Green, Karen Benton and Ellen Wigglesworth. Staying close behind them, and covering well, were Wendy Powell, Annette Ring and Margie Pinto. Stong play at halfback was exhibited by Chrissy Dennis and Tuwana Thornton. Kelly Plank had an extremely successful year as the Jag's sweep supporting Sarah Hoffman in the goal cage.

The Lady Jaguars accumulated 28 goals this season with Kim Green leading with nine goals. Krista Kurtz contributed eight goals to the total, while Karen Benton, Annette Ring, Ellen Wigglesworth, and Wendy Powell each earned two. Margie Pinto also scored during the season. Sarah Hoffman is credited with 57 saves.

The Team went 8 - 2 in the regular season and made it to the Class C Regional Playoff Games. Winning the first tough game aganist all-time rival, Mardela, added fuel to the fire. That game really got the girls "psyked" but it just wasn't enough to beat the Pocomoke Warriors in the final game of the Playoffs.

Many underclassmen will be returning next year and it looks like another promising year. Good job Ladies!

Field hockey can sometimes be a very aggressive contact sport as shown by Wendy Powell as Chrissy Dennis and Kelly Plank look on. Each year, it seems, the rules change providing for a more aggressive game.

J.V. Soccer

Priming For Varsity

Junior Varsity teams are often left out of the limelight. With the exception of devoted parents and a few friends, who attend the games, J. V. contests are usually not well supported.

People fail to see the importance of the junior varsity program. It is during these J. V. seasons, that athletes are primed for varsity play. The J. V. program grooms athletes for particular positions on the varsity squad. Techniques and skills are refined.

Coach Webster best states these ideas in relation to this year's season. "If the J. V. Soccer season was measured on wins and losses the season was not a success, but as a learning experience it was outstanding."

Greg Mears states, "You can learn to work together as a team and learn the fundements" as benifits of playing on a J. V. squad.

A Season Of Ups And Downs

The 1987 WHS Soccer Team had its ups and downs. The Season was off to a terrific start with the potentially top contending Jaguars losing only one of their first seven games. The players may have become over confident or may have underestimated other teams, whatever the case the Jaguars lost their next four games. Despite these set backs, the team never gave up and finished the season with a 4-3 win over North Dorchester. One of the biggest highlights for the struggling Jaguars, was a big 2-1 victory over the Parkside Rams.

Several outstanding players motivated the team with their efforts. Senior captains, Steve Reid and Robbie Pinchak exhibited extremely great leadership skills. Junior, Uyi Sibetta, was named to the Maryland State All-Star Second Team. He also broke the long-standing school record for the most goals in a season, with twenty goals scored.

Football Cheerleaders

Jaguar Spirit Raisers

During their second year, the football cheerleaders showed a marked improvement in their style and techniques. Their new style of cheering is exhuberant and enthusiastic. The squad attends a camp at Salisbury State College each summer to learn new cheers and to enhance their abilities. This year the cheerleaders were very active in not only all games but especially homecoming. The pep rally was planned by the cheerleaders, they did an excellent job.

A dance by the cheerleaders was set to Run D.M.C.'s "Tricky". This was another innovative way to get the crowd involved.

The squad not only supported their team throughout the season at home games but also traveled to some away games to raise WHS spectator spirit.

Mrs. Debra Reynolds and Mrs. Anne McIntyre are to be commended for their support and encouragement throughout the season.

J.V. Football

A Bright Future For Varsity

The Junior Varsity Football Squad had a great year tallying 5 wins and only 3 losses. This was even more impressive considering the size of the team. The squad demonstrated that the success of a team is not measured in the number of players.

The J.V. Team has a very demanding season. Not only do they play a full schedule, but they also suit up for varsity games as well. They are also termed a "dummy team" and as such they practiced aganist the varsity squad. It is a tough team to take this extra "double duty". Because of the team numbers, most of the squad members played on both offense and defense. All of this work does pay off. The J.V. players learn the fundamentals of the game, they increase their skills and gain experience through their play with the varsity team. This year's team also learned much about team effort and cooperation, as they had to learn to be versatile.

The Varsity Team of 1988 should benefit greatly from the hard work of these J.V. individuals.

A Season Of Individual Accelerations

The 1987 Washington High School Varsity Football team finished its season with a 3-7 worksheet.

The team itself did not achieve some of the goals that were set but many individual acculades were accomplished.

Washington's high powered offense was dismantled early in the season by an abundance of injuries. Several key players were sidelined for the rest of the season.

One of the highlights of the season was the 18-12 Homecoming victory over Delmar. The Jaguars had their most impressive victory of their history by defeating Easton by a score of 36-28, in overtime.

There were several outstanding players on the squad. Jeff Bennett and Oliver Collier were named Player of the Week by the Bayside Conference. James Redding was named to the First team All-Bayside, Bennett and Collier were named to the secondteam selections. Russell James and Dion Johnson received honorable mentions. Oliver Collier was a second selection on the Mason-Dixon All-Star team, with Bennett, Redding, James, and Johnson receiving honorable mentions.

This years squad was flowing with raw talents that never really developed. But the multitude of young talent promises for better seasons to come.

The Seniors would like to extend a sincere thanks to all the coaches for their support during the past four years.

Golf

An Individual Sport

The 1987 Golf Team was made up of four members. Each had their own personal achievement. Although there isn't much outside support, the team had a good season and the enrollment of the team over the last year increased. The only senior was Jeff Noble followed by two Juniors: David Whitelock, and Billy Bennett along with a newcomming Freshman who was J. B. Webster. The anticipation of the game and its' competitive aspects are exciting, but also are fun. As Billy Bennett quoted, "I learned a lot and had a good time." The team was coached by Clyde Marriner (father of a former golf member), who helped the team increase their skills.

The season was fast-paced as some of the team members said that their experiences were worth the effort. The team played well together as they won the Somerset County Championship in 1987.

Women's Basketball

The 1987-88 Girls' Basketball Team had quite a rewarding season. The squad finished a much-improved year with six in the win column. Under the leadership of Coach Stewart and senior captains Tracy Ford and Pandora Randolph, the girls showed much development in their playing abilities. Highlights of the season were the two wins over rival Pocomoke, and the defeat over the strong Indians of Wi-Hi. More good news is that with such a mass of underclassmen stalwarts returning next year, the 1988-89 Lady Jags could be the best yet!

J.V. Basketball

An Impressive 14-5 Record

Kenny Bryant leading the offense.

The 1987-88 Junior Varsity Basketball Squad had quite a rewarding season, finishing the year with an impressive 14-5 record. Junior captains, Brian Holland and Robert Cottman shared leadership responsibilities. Both demonstrated this by leading the team in points scored. Brian Holland was also the leading rebounder for the team. Through the successful coaching abilities of Mr. Birckett and the team's hard work in practice, as well as in games, the team developed skills and valuable experience to perhaps create a championship varsity team for 1988-89.

James Redding explodes to the hoop for two easy points.

Varsity Basketball

Achieves First Round Playoff Standing

Unlike teams of the recent past, this year's Varsity Basketball Squad earned a Class C State Playoff berth.

The squad was spear-headed by a majority of seniors. Of the starting five, four were seniors, two of which acheived All-Bayside status. Andre Collins was named to the First Team All-Bayside, with Jeff Bennett receiving honorable mention. Bill Ward and James Redding rounded out the Senior starters, with support from Junior, Brent Taylor.

The most memorable game was an overtime victory against arch-rival Crisfield. This was the first victury over the "Crabbers" since the 1984-85 season.

The Jags managed to play hard and hang on in the crucial games to win a much desired playoff spot. This was the main goal of the season.

The players contribute much of their success to the support of their fans. Attendance at home games was especially high this year and this enthusiasm added much to the team morale.

Andre Collins sails above Wi-Hi defenders as Brent Taylor comes to lend a hand. Jeff Bennett sets to fire in a jump shot.

Basketball Cheerleaders

Have Their Own Unique Style

Varsity

The 1987-88 Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders cheered for the team at all home games. They showed true school spirit and enthusiasm. The Squad combines two styles of cheering. They use camp cheers and made up some of their own to form their own unique style.

One event sponsored by the cheerleaders this season was the Powder Puff Basketball Game. The cheerleaders and basketball players traded places for an interesting game.

The highlight of this season was cheering for the team in the 1st round of the Regional Playoffs. Even though, the team lost, the cheerleaders had an exciting time cheering the team on. The squad would like to wish all the best to Tiffoni Cottman next year.

Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders showed spirit and vivacity as they cheered the J.V. Basketball Team on to many victories. The Squad uses some cheers of their own and some of the varsity squad's cheers. Some of the J.V. squad went to camp with the Varsity girls. They learned alot and they strengthened their techniques and skills.

The squad also participated in the Powder Puff Basketball Game. They enjoyed it, although it was a tough game.

The J.V. squad would like to thank Miss Karen Brittingham for all her dedication and support during the season.

The J.V. Basketball Cheerleaders: Row 1: Rhonda Cottman Row 2: Brenda Slade, Julie Pinto, Terri Ake, Shoronne Bailey Row 3: Shelita Allen, Mel Bozman, Kelly Collins.

Women's Tennis

Team Has A Rocky Season

The 1988 Women's Tennis Team had a very tough season this year with no wins to their credit. However, the girls did have a lot of fun and have learned a sport that they will hopefully enjoy for the rest of their lives. Unlike most sports, which require many people to field a team, tennis requires only two to four players. It is a sport that is much easier to continue than most after a high school career.

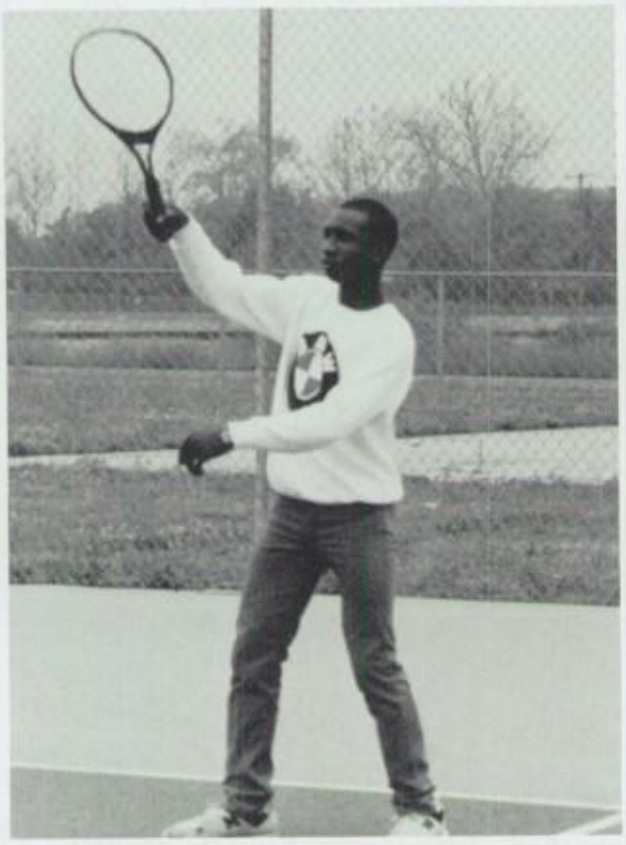
Men's Tennis

A Growing Program



The 1988 Men's Tennis Team saw many improvements this year. The number of team members increased as well as the' number of wins.

Many players had outstanding seasons. Byron Kearse was named the team's Most Valuable Player. Also leading the team were Senior Mark Beauchamp, and Juniors Uyi Sibetta and Wil Shackleford.

A Struggling Young Team

Sliding in way ahead of the ball is Karen Benton, safe at home.

After a few weeks of musical positions, the softball team finally settled down and played team ball. The leadership of captain and four year player Karen Benton and Seniors Tracy Ford and Kim Green was a great help to less experienced underclassmen.

Wendy Powell led the team in hitting, followed by Karen Benton and Tracy Ford. Windmilling Ellen Wigglesworth took on the duties of the mound with Wendy Powell making the move from second base to the chores behind the plate.

Much personal growth and improvement was made. Many of next year's returning players will participate in summer leagues and gain experience. Next year's season looks promising.

Baseball

First In Class C Playoffs

The 1988 Washington Jaguar Baseball Team had a very successful season, compiling an 11-6 regular season record. Even though the team had only four seniors, the Jaguars managed experience through the efforts of five juniors. The season began unsuccessfully with losses to rivals Bennett and Mardela. The momentum picked up but in the middle of the season the team's performance declined with three straight losses to Class B powers. The Jaguar high-powered offense pulled through the slump, however with convincing victories over Class C foes.

The pitching staff was perhaps the best seen in recent years. Pitching was led early in the season by senior hurler Andre Collins, who pitched the team's first no-hitter of the season. Junior ace, Billy Williams highlighted the season, tallying a 5-2 worksheet going into the playoffs. Williams pitched a no-hitter against a very competitive Pocomoke team. Junior C.W. Webster and Sophomore Walt Benton carried the team through late innings with blazing fastballs. The team also saw support from Sophomore Matt Wallace and Freshmen Steve Daniels and Sean Messick. Senior Jeff Bennett anchored the catcher's position stopping many would-be base runners from stealing.

Senior leadership was displayed by Jeff Bennett, Steve Reid, and Russell James. The combined efforts of all players enabled the Jaguars to reach first seat in the Class C Regional Playoffs. The team . The team won the opening game against St. Decatur only to lose a heartbreaking contest to a tough Easton squad in the second game of the playoffs.

With a solid pitching staff returning and many experienced underclassmen, the 1989 season looks promising.

Sports Banquet

Outstanding Athletes Are Honored

Each year the Athletic Department honors the athletes of Washington High School. All participants of each team are recognized and team Most Valuable Players are announced. Outstanding Senior athletes are also recognized.

The highlight of the evening is the presentation of the awards for the Male and Female Outstanding Athlete of Washington High School. These athletes are awarded this honor based on athletic skills, leadership abilities and attitude. This year the awards were given to Tracey Ford and Jeff Bennett.

Marcus Harmon receives his varsity letter in soccer from Coach Webster.

Life In The Fast Lane

"Life in the fast lane" had real meaning for students at Washington High, who managed to have a thousand things to do in addition to the demands made of them at school.

Many students had jobs after school and had to juggle homework obligations with the demands of employment. Other students chose to spend their leisure time with school activities. These ranged from basketball to band to just clowning around. Athletics was always big, but if sports didn't suit you, there was always journalism, chorus, or student council. Whatever your interest, you could always find something worthwhile to occupy your time.

Scott -
You're just not the same without your wise words. It really is going to be different. I'll miss
you. Keep hope in Science and fucking me in the
ass. Good luck.
Love,
Tami

Scott,
To a ... I guess I'll say could say I'll miss cool guy. Thanks for all for doing them & no thanks for doing me in the fucking ass. Good luck.
Love,
Tami

Scott -
Not the same without your Beauing Mein was great light year. It will -ass "use what you have" in the athenia! - Science years. Keep hope ue IT! coming your energies and Stay in touch + good luck in your new school
